RE: United States Patent No. 6,785,111 issued 31 August 2004 "Electric Charge Detector"
Our File: 3-5732-001

Ed:

The Patent Office requires the payment of maintenance fees for all utility patents filed on or after December 12, 1980. The fees become due 3½, 7½, and 11½ years after the date of issuance. If the fees are not timely paid, the patent lapses and all of your rights are lost.

Your first maintenance fee is now due in the amount of $450. Our charges for the docketing, maintenance and preparation of all required forms is $500.

Please forward your payment in the amount of $950 U.S FUNDS if you wish this payment to be made to the Patent Office. Upon our receipt of same we will proceed with paying the fee to the United States Patent and Trademark Office.

We also take this opportunity to remind you to promptly let us know if your status changes from "small" to "large" so that we may prepare the necessary forms for filing in the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, as required. If you have licensed this Patent to a company having more than 500 employees - including all affiliates, we must have this information before payment of your current maintenance fee.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,

Richard L. Fix
